

Love Affair With Palm Beach Becomes 'Live-In' Relationship

By DOREY FINN SCOTT

Daily News Columnist

Anyone who says we don't have a number of new, young professionals working here in Palm Beach is wrong. Take architectural designer Jacqueline Albarran, for instance. The 33-year-old lady from Cuba is knee-deep in balustrades on Yoko Ono's restoration of her Mizner home.

"It's all being done in cypress — and solid brass," says Ms. Albarran, talking about the project. "And it should take at least six more months to complete."

Working from Phil Steel's County Road office, "Jackie" Albarran has all the poise and assurance of an executive. She should, for she's lived virtually around the world before living in Palm Beach — including her native Cuba of course. She's also called Bogota, Lausanne, El Salvador, London,

Washington, D.C. and Miami home.

Daily News Photo By J. CRAIG STANFIELD

Jacqueline Albarran is steeped in Palm Beach projects